Please accept this letter to indicate my sincere interest in the Junior Developer position at Envato. I have an advanced degree in Engineering and have spent the previous years working to develop technology for wind farm analysis. I realized earlier this year that I ultimately wanted to fully develop my technology skillset and decided to pursue a course, and was subsequently hired on as a teaching assistant.

I am currently contracting with a web development company to analyse the performance of websites built with modular components and have experience with integrations through my work with Webflow. I am currently working as a teaching assistant at Le Wagon, which focuses on Ruby on Rails, HTML, CSS, and JS. I have prior experience with nodeJS, React, and Typescript as well and have spent the last few months studying these technologies specifically. I would like to work for Envato for two reasons:

- 1) I want to learn from your consistent and excellent design of products, which has clearly been reflected by the marketplace.
- 2) Your commitment to creating an inclusive working and learning environment.

I am ready to apply my accumulated skills from my development projects and previous experience as an engineer to a project at scale, with appropriate mentoring. I am eager to get started as soon as possible, and can be reached at 04350606968 or samcheneyus@gmail.com.

Thank you for your time and I hope to speak with you soon.
